Related Work Experience

December 2009 – Current: PixelPaste (Arnhem & Amsterdam, NL)

Ik currently work as a freelance webdesigner. I design and build websites, apps, corporate identities and print work. I currently have my desk in a design studio called Studio Hands.

September 2008 – Januari 2009: Eximion (Eindhoven, NL)

During my internship at Eximion I developed my own videogame with the help of a programmer. During this process I generated several game ideas, and made pitches for these ideas. I converted one of these pitches to an extensive GDD describing the game. After that the actual development started and I made most of the visual assets for the game (3D models, textures and level design). The game is now playable on Facebook and Nintendo Wii.

September 2007 – July 2008: Engine Software (Doetinchem, NL)

I started at Engine Software as an Intern. During my Internship I made several 2D Menu Graphics for the game 'Dragon Hunters' for the Nintendo DS. After that I worked on the 3D graphics and Level design for that same game.

After a while I started working at Engine Software as a part-time Freelancer, and so far I have worked on 3 Nintendo DS titles and 1 Wii title as a 2D/3D graphics artist.

Januari 2005 – Juli 2005: Arcadis (Arnhem, NL)

Internship at the web development department of ARCADIS International. I made a webbased survey program in ASP.net to be used in the ARCADIS Intranet. The software was able to handle multiple choice, multiple answer and text based questions, and was able to automatically generate statistics and visual graphs of the results on the back-end of the software. My system is still being used in the current intranet of ARCADIS International.
